

Introduction

Please note, Margie is pronounced with a hard 'g' (as in MARGarita!)

Ever looked back and wished you'd been braver?

Let's be honest—stepping up, speaking out, and taking bold action isn't always easy. But if you want bigger impact, courage isn't optional—it's essential.

Our next speaker, Dr. Margie Warrell, knows this firsthand. From her rural Australian roots growing up the big sister of seven on a farm to becoming a global authority on courageous leadership, Margie has spent over 25 years helping individuals and organizations—from NASA and Marriot to Google and Deloitte*—lead more boldly.

A bestselling author of The Courage Gap and five other books, Margie has advised Fortune 500 leaders, Congressional Chiefs on Capitol Hill, entrepreneurs and rising changemakers worldwide. She's a former Senior Partner in Korn Ferry's Board, Executive Consulting and CEO Institute and, a trusted voice in Forbes, and, for podcast fans, she hosts her own Live Brave Podcast.

Beyond the boardroom, Margie's appetite for adventure has taken her to the summit of Mt. Kilimanjaro—alongside her husband and four kids!

She's here to inspire you to step up, be braver, and lead with greater impact.

Please join me in welcoming... Dr. Margie Warrell!

Female Audiences: Margie has a particular passion for empowering women to own their value and step into their power and claim their seat at decision making tables. She is a Women's Economic Forum Honoree for her work supporting exiled women leaders from Afghanistan and Iran with the Women's Democracy Network.

*You're welcome to substitute the names of organizations Margie has worked with to be more relevant to your industry. These include: Deloitte, MARS, Marriott, Microsoft, Johnson & Johnson, Shell, MetLife, Credit Suisse, SAP, HP, IBM, United Nations, PenFed, Novartis, Astra Zeneca, British Telecom, Verizon, AT&T, Salesforce, United Health, Colgate, Morgan Stanley.